

ENGLISH GRAMMAR CLASS

Modifiers

Adjectives · Adverbs · Participles & Participle Phrases

Today's story: When the Storm Hit the Coast

WARM-UP

What can you see?

Look at each picture idea. Say one or two sentences about it.

A stormy sea

A child running and smiling

A damaged bridge

A crowded market

When the Storm Hit the Coast (1/2)

Last October, a powerful storm struck the small coastal town of Bay Harbour. Dark, heavy clouds gathered quickly over the rising sea, and the wind grew stronger every hour. Local fishermen, watching the sky nervously, decided to bring their boats in early.

By evening, the storm was extremely violent. Rain fell steadily, and the wind howled loudly through the empty streets. The old wooden bridge connecting the two sides of the town was badly damaged by falling branches and strong waves. Several fallen trees blocked the main road, and frightened residents moved quickly to higher ground.

When the Storm Hit the Coast (2/2)

Having lost electricity around midnight, most families used candles and battery lamps to light their homes. Being extremely careful, the local fire service worked all night, helping elderly residents reach the community centre safely. One firefighter said the flooded streets made the rescue work incredibly difficult.

By the next morning, the exhausted town began to recover. The rising sun revealed a damaged coastline, but also a relieved community. Volunteers, arriving from nearby villages, worked tirelessly to clear the fallen trees and repair the broken bridge. Slowly but surely, Bay Harbour returned to normal life.

CHECK YOUR UNDERSTANDING

Comprehension Questions

Quick check

- Where does the story happen?
- What kind of weather event is described?
- Does the town recover by the end of the story?
- What did the fishermen do when they saw the sky? Why?
- What happened to the bridge and the road?
- What did the fire service do during the night?
- Who helped clear the fallen trees the next day?

NOTICING

Find the Patterns

YELLOW — describes a noun

what kind / whose / which one powerful storm · old wooden bridge

GREEN — describes a verb, adjective, or sentence

how / how much / when / where grew stronger · extremely violent

BLUE — an -ing/-ed word describing a noun

not part of the main verb

falling branches · frightened residents

NOTICING

Guided Questions (1/2)

- Find 'rising sea' and 'rising sun'. What noun does rising describe each time? What letters does it end in?
- Find 'the storm was extremely violent'. Which word tells us HOW violent? Which word does it describe — a noun or an adjective?
- Compare 'The wind was rising' and 'the rising wind'. In which sentence is rising part of the main verb? In which is it like an adjective? How can you tell?
- Find 'fallen trees' and 'a damaged coastline'. What form are fallen and damaged? Are these nouns doing the action, or receiving it?

NOTICING

Guided Questions (2/2)

- Find: 'Having lost electricity around midnight, most families used candles...'. What comes right after the comma? Who does the opening phrase describe?
- Find: 'Being extremely careful, the local fire service worked all night...'. What two words start this phrase? What might this pattern be used for at the start of a sentence?
- Find 'worked tirelessly' and 'moved quickly'. What do these words tell us about the verb? Where are they positioned?

RULE BUILDING

Build the Rule — In Your Own Words (1/2)

1

Words like powerful, damaged, empty describe a noun. Where do they go? What questions do they answer?

2

Words like extremely, quickly, steadily describe a verb, adjective, adverb, or sentence. What questions do they answer?

3

An -ing word (rising, falling) describing a noun usually shows the noun is ____ the action.

RULE BUILDING

Build the Rule — In Your Own Words (2/2)

4

An -ed / irregular word (broken, fallen) describing a noun usually shows the noun ____ the action.

5

How can we tell if an -ing/-ed word is an adjective, or part of the main verb (was rising, had broken)?

6

A phrase like 'Having lost electricity, ...' at the START of a sentence describes the ____ of the main clause.

Our Rules, Confirmed

Category	What it does	Example
Adjective	Describes a noun: what kind / whose / which one	a stormy sea · her broken umbrella
Adverb	Modifies a verb / adjective / adverb / sentence: how, how much, when, where	She reacted calmly. It was extremely windy.
Present participle (-ing)	Adjective use: the noun causes / is doing the action	the rising tide · the increasing temperature
Past participle (-ed / irreg.)	Adjective use: the noun receives the action	a damaged roof · fallen trees
Participle phrase	Participle + complement, describing the subject; can open a sentence + comma	Having lost power, the town went dark.

Exercise A

A · Gap-Fill

quickly · frightened · rising · carefully · broken · extremely · falling · calm

1. The ____ waves made it dangerous for the small boats.
2. She spoke very ____ during the emergency, which helped everyone stay calm.
3. They found a ____ window after the storm.
4. The children were ____ when they heard the thunder.
5. He drove ____ through the flooded street to avoid an accident.
6. It was ____ cold that night, so we lit a fire.
7. Watch out for ____ branches near the old trees!
8. The sea became ____ again after the storm passed.

ANSWER KEY

A · Gap-Fill

1. rising

2. calmly

3. broken

4. frightened

5. carefully

6. extremely

7. falling

8. calmly

Note: item 2 needs the adverb calmly (not the adjective calm in the box).

Exercise B

B · Combine with a Participle Phrase

Model: She lost her keys. She couldn't enter the house. → Having lost her keys, she couldn't enter the house.

- a) He finished his homework. He watched a film.
- b) The road was blocked by fallen trees. Drivers had to take another route. (start with Being ...)
- c) They had walked for three hours. They finally saw the village.
- d) The bridge was damaged in the storm. It stayed closed for a week. (start with Being ...)
- e) She had studied the map carefully. She found the shortcut easily.

ANSWER KEY

B · Combine with a Participle Phrase

- a) Having finished his homework, he watched a film.
- b) Being blocked by fallen trees, the road forced drivers to take another route.
- c) Having walked for three hours, they finally saw the village.
- d) Being damaged in the storm, the bridge stayed closed for a week.
- e) Having studied the map carefully, she found the shortcut easily.

Exercise C

C · Error Correction

Each sentence has one mistake with a modifier. Find and correct it.

- i. The storm was extreme violent last night.
- ii. We saw a broke window after the wind.
- iii. Having lose all their power, the town used candles.
- iv. The workers moved very careful near the damage bridge.
- v. Rising the water level worried the villagers.
- vi. She is a real good swimmer.

ANSWER KEY

C · Error Correction

- i. extreme → extremely
- ii. broke → broken
- iii. lose → lost
- iv. careful → carefully / damage → damaged
- v. Rising the water level → The rising water level
- vi. real good → really well (or: a really good swimmer)

FREE PRACTICE (1/3)

Reporter Card 1

A mountain village after heavy snowfall

Fallen branches lying on the rooftops

Children happily building a snowman

Smoke rising slowly from the chimneys

A frozen river at the edge of the village

An elderly man walking carefully on the icy path

FREE PRACTICE (2/3)

Reporter Card 2

A city street after sudden flooding

Abandoned cars stuck in the flooded road

A shopkeeper closing his flooded shop quickly

Water rising near the doorsteps

Two firefighters helping a frightened family

Dark clouds still hanging above the buildings

FREE PRACTICE (3/3)

Weather Reporter

You are talking to a friend. Describe a foul weather to him/her — they will sketch it without seeing it!

Try to use:

- At least 3 adjectives (what kind of thing?)
- At least 2 adverbs (how / when / where?)
- One participle or participle phrase (an -ing/-ed word, or Having... / Being...)

Starter phrase: “In the morning, I carefully read...”

EXIT TICKET

*In one sentence, describe today's weather where you are.
Try to use one adjective and one adverb.*

HOMWORK

My Weather Story

Write a short paragraph (60–90 words) about a real or imagined weather event you experienced.

- Use at least 4 adjectives.
- Use at least 3 adverbs.
- Use at least 2 participles or participle phrases (one may open the sentence with a comma).
- Underline every adjective, circle every adverb, and highlight every participle you use.

Do not worry about the grammar error. We are here to learn.